Jazz Beginnings
Presented by
Dr. Rene Boyer
Sponsored by Peripole, Inc.
Rationale for Session: Every child needs to be introduced to Blues and Jazz, a style of music that had its origin in the United States. Blues and jazz contain important musical elements that can help reinforce understanding of form, rhythm, texture, harmony and melody.

Description of Session: This session is designed to enable students to perform 12-bar blues. It will help teachers understand the blues sequence and introduce to them popular child-friendly songs, books, and instrumental pieces and listening examples that use this standard jazz form.
What is Jazz?

Jazz is Freedom!
Jazz is Fun!
Jazz has something for everyone!
You get to clap some rhythms!
You get to move in time!
Instruments will talk to you.
In syncopated time!

Hump-ty Dump-ty was good look-in',
There's a lesson we should learn here.

Hump-ty Dump-ty had it all,
There is something you should know.

Yeah!

Hump-ty Dump-ty tried to text me,
Tried to put him back together.

Us-ing or you'll fall deep down be-low.

Stop the texting when you're walk-in'
Then ol' different kinds of glue.

Hump-ty Dump-ty had a fall.

Blues Lyrics

• The lyrics of the blues mirrored the painful experiences of many African Americans. Many were very poor after slavery and they were uneducated. (Notice the language used in the blues lyrics below.) It was at this time that the misery and desperation of living conditions following the Civil War, was vented through their blues songs.

• In the following example, notice the rhyming scheme at the end of each phrase. This is common to the 12-bar blues.
• A. Good mornin’ blues; Blues, how do you do?
• A. Good mornin’ blues; Blues, how do you do?
• B. I’m doing all right, good mornin’, how are you?

Good Mornin’ Blues

• A. I lay down last night, turnin’ from side to side.
• A. I lay down last night, turnin’ from side to side.
• B. I was not asleep, but I was dissatisfied.
We’re here to make some music, We won’t be very long.

Sit up in your seat now and listen to our song!

My name is _____ and I’m only _____ years old.

My name is _____ and I’m only _____ years old.

I love to sing the blues, even when the weather gets cold.
They tell me, Joe Turner’s come and gone
They tell be Joe Turner’s come and gone.
He left me hear to sing this song.

Arr. Boyer

You ain't nothin' but a hound dog, cryin' all the time. You ain't nothin' but a hound dog, cryin' all the time.

Well, you ain't never caught a rabbit and you ain't no friend of mine.
Blue Suede Shoes by Elvis Presley

• Well it’s, one for the money, two for the show,
• three to get ready and go cat go!

• But don’t you, step on my blue suede shoes.
• You can do anything but lay off my blue suede shoes.

• Well you can knock me down, step in my face; slander my name, all over the place,

• But don’t you, step on my blue suede shoes,
• You can do anything but lay off my blue suede shoes.
One, Two, Three O’Clock Rock

• One, two, three o’clock, four o’clock rock
• Five, six, seven o’clock, eight o’clock rock
• Nine, ten, eleven o’clock, twelve o’clock rock
• We’re gonna rock around the clock tonight!
•
• Put your glad rags on, join me, Hon
• We’ll have some fun when the clock strikes one
• We’re gonna rock around the clock tonight
• We’re gonna rock, rock, rock, ’til broad daylight
• We’re gonna rock, gonna rock around the clock tonight.
• When the clock strikes two, three and four
• If the band slows down we’ll yell for more
• We’re gonna rock around the clock tonight
• We’re gonna rock, rock, rock, ’til broad daylight
• We’re gonna rock, gonna rock around the clock tonight.

Entries to Scatting

• A. Discuss some of the various languages that people throughout the world use to communicate. Ask children to show physical ways of communicating with one another. The Hi sign, waving, nodding heads, etc. Discuss the possibility of language not existing as we know it today. What are other possibilities? Perhaps making up our own language. Let’s use scat syllables, or no nonsense syllables as our springboard.

• Scat singing can be defined as, “the alter ego of what instrumentalist play—a tenor sax, a trumpet player—when they improvise on their horns.

• Fred Flintstone and Scooby Doo are two cartoon characters. Both these characters had interesting ways of communicating, especially Fred.
Abersold

• Use recordings from Abersold’s 12-bar blues collections to use as background music for students to improvise. (These are the same recordings jazz musicians use to improvise over when they are not with the group.)
